Course Information

Delivery Format: Instructor Led - Online

Course Overview

The Palo Alto Networks Cortex XSOAR: Engineering Security Automation Solutions course is a four-day instructor-led training with a blend of lectures and hands-on labs. This training will enable students to use Cortex XSOAR to:

- Conduct incident investigation and response activities on a phishing campaign
- Create custom dashboards and generate reports
- Install multiple engines and configure a load balancing group
- Use built-in and external integrations to ingest incidents and automate security processes
- Plan and implement an automation use case by building playbooks and automation scripts

This is an update and replacement for the previous (EDU-380) Cortex XSOAR: Automation and Orchestration. Private EDU-380 classes (based on Cortex XSOAR 6.8) are available upon request.
