Course Overview

70% of organizations admit they’re not fully prepared for major disruptions. The ISO 22301 Lead Auditor Training Course helps close that gap by equipping professionals to plan, lead, and manage audits of a Business Continuity Management System (BCMS) based on ISO 22301. Given the increasing number of disruptions and the unpredictability of disasters—whether natural, occupational, or information security related—more organizations are seeking ISO 22301 certification to demonstrate resilience and continual improvement. This training course, developed by PECB, emphasizes the importance of effective audits and the role auditors play in identifying and addressing weaknesses. You'll gain the knowledge and skills to conduct audits in compliance with ISO 19011 and the certification process outlined in ISO/IEC 17021-1. Through interactive sessions, exercises, and real-world scenarios, you’ll learn how to apply internationally recognized audit principles, manage audit teams, and assess organizational conformance. Upon successful completion of the course and exam, you’ll be eligible to apply for the globally respected PECB Certified ISO 22301 Lead Auditor credential—a formal recognition of your auditing expertise and ability to conduct BCMS audits on behalf of a certification body. Certification and examination fees are included in the training course price.
